BOLOGNA
2019

Groupe HMH has achieved both national and international acclaim as one of Canada's oldest independent publishers. The Groupe brings together four independent publishers, Hurtubise, XYZ, MultiMondes and MD, each managed individually.

Over the years, Hurtubise began establishing itself in the world of young adult fiction by publishing well-known authors such as Sophie Rondeau (Selfies et sushis and Cupcakes et claquettes series), Rose-Line Brasset (Juliette series) and Sarah-Maude Beauchesne (Maxime, Lèche-vitrines and Cœur de slush).

This spring, we are proud to share new thrilling titles, both in Middle Grade and YA, especially aimed to captivate male readers. We also present a wide range of series for first readers and still, many strong YA titles.

Today, Groupe HMH is proud of its authors, who continue to receive growing international acclaim. Notable among them are Jocelyne Saucier, whose novel And the Birds Rained Down has sold more than 250,000 copies worldwide; Rose-Line Brasset, who is followed by thousands of young readers in the French-speaking world and whose first eleven volumes of the Juliette series sold close to 500,000 copies; and Marie-Renée Lavoie, whose novels for both adults and children have been translated into five languages to date. Thanks to their immense talent and beautiful writing, the Groupe's authors carry Quebec literature far beyond borders.

We invite you to browse through the following pages to discover the wide variety of titles in children's and YA fiction that we offer for this new spring season.

INTERNATIONAL TRANSLATION GRANTS

CANADA COUNCIL FOR THE ARTS

The “translation” component of Arts Abroad funds the translation of Canadian dramatic works or literary works for international presentation or publication.

Types of writing covered by the funding

Translation funding is available for fiction and short stories, poetry, drama, graphic novels, children’s and YA literature, and literary non-fiction.

Amount of funding

Up to 50% of translation costs and a maximum of CA$20,000 for each translation. Each applicant is eligible to receive up to two translation grants per year. Costs are calculated based on translation fees.

For more information :

<https://canadacouncil.ca/funding/grants/arts-abroad/translation>, or contact Nicole Lavigne, Associate Program Officer, at nicole.lavigne@canadacouncil.ca

The Frankfurt 2020 Incentive

for Purchasing Translation Rights and for Publishing in German

A one-time initiative for the translation, and in some cases, the production and promotion of Canadian works into German. For the duration of the initiative, the Council will fund the translation of works by Canadian authors even in genres normally outside its mandate.

For more information :

<https://canadacouncil.ca/initiatives/frankfurt2020>

SODEC

SODEC provides financial assistance for the translation of literary works written by Québec authors and published by Québec publishers. This program aims at providing visibility for Québec authors and literature throughout exportation and international rights markets.

Amount of funding

The request for funds must be submitted to SODEC by a Québec publisher. The subsidy granted may be up to 75% of the translator’s fee and up to a total amount of CA$12,500.

To find out about eligibility criteria: sodec.gouv.qc.ca/fr/programme/route/livre, tab “Programme d’aide aux entreprises du livre et de l’édition spécialisée” (PDF), or contact HMH’s rights manager Sandra Felteau.

An essential tool for educational development that opens students up to the world and provides an initial contact with science.

A child's first attempts at understanding the world are defining moments in their development. For parents, teachers, and other instructors, they can also pose educational challenges.

In a series of books featuring the endearing characters Charlotte, Alice, Jules, and Léon, the Atomic Neurons help explain the remarkable answers behind everyday phenomena.

Why does my bike rust?
Why is there static electricity in my hair?

“The books explain many natural events and offer basic science experiments that can be carried out at home or at school. The explanations are brilliant, the characters entertaining.”

Un peu d'histoire

L'utilisation des premières machines simples, comme cette balance à bascule, remonte à fort longtemps, probablement à la préhistoire. Le plan incliné et le levier, en raison de leur facilité d'utilisation, ont vraisemblablement été les premières machines simples à voir le jour. La poulie, la roue et la vis, qui demandent davantage d'habiletés techniques, n'ont fait leur apparition que beaucoup plus tard.

Dans l'Égypte ancienne, les leviers permettaient de soulever des pierres gigantesques pour la construction des pyramides et l'érection des obélisques.

Archimède, physicien grec ayant vécu il y a 2300 ans, a été le premier à établir les principes mathématiques des leviers, en plus de concevoir un système à plusieurs poulies appelé « palan ». Il aurait également inventé la vis qui porte son nom : la vis d'Archimède, une vis creuse qui permet de déplacer de l'eau. On s'en sert pour irriguer les champs, par exemple.

« Donnez-moi un point d'appui et je soulèverai le monde », a dit Archimède. Cette phrase peut paraître prétentieuse. Mais tu verras, si tu disposes d'un point d'appui (ou pivot) et que tu positionnes le levier correctement, tu peux, toi aussi, soulever des charges incroyablement lourdes.

On reconnaît aujourd'hui six machines simples, divisées en deux familles.

Julia Gagnon (ill. Danielle Tremblay)

The Ben Learns series introduces early readers to entrepreneurial values such as being creative, self-reliant, a team player, etc. The collection helps develop self-confidence along with social and interdisciplinary skills.

The series implements several strategies to help children decode words and understand meaning: silent letters and complex sounds are indicated, there is a glossary for vocabulary words, and illustrations help guide the narrative. The collection encourages active learning: readers must contribute to Ben's project by giving him the key (the word) that will solve his problems or help his friends solve theirs.

With endearing characters, evocative storylines, and careful attention to pedagogical tools, Ben Learns is a collection that has it all!

- An initiation to entrepreneurial values;
- Tools to help early reader;
- Fun stories that feature real-life problems;
- Characters that we can follow in other series!

LITTLE ENTREPRENEURS comics

série BD des petits entrepreneurs

Julia Gagnon (ill. Danielle Tremblay)

These comic books illustrate the implementation of entrepreneurial projects. They give readers the tools they need to succeed.

The texts present the 4 steps of every entrepreneurial project: gathering ideas, developing a plan, starting the project and making adjustments, and overall assessment and recognition of everyone's efforts. Entrepreneurial values are highlighted in the form of a toolbox.

The comic book demonstrates how the three characters each set up their project, divide up the tasks, and overcome difficulties to achieve their goal.

Each volume begins with character profiles that present each person's strengths and defining characteristics. Workshops at the end help put into practice notions presented throughout the comic book.

Jason is living with his father in a small and quiet town. His life changes overnight when his old neighbour and friend Gustave dies, and Jason quickly learns that he has been entrusted with a mission to find a legendary treasure still hidden in the area.

Piecing together clues left by Gus with help from his friend Sara and her grandfather Karl, Jason will soon find himself immersed in a darkly thrilling adventure, rooted in the secrets of a beguiling brotherhood.

In this second volume, Jason and Sarah will travel across the Eastern Townships—from a monastery's shadowy depths to the murky waters of Lake Memphremagog—uncovering terrible secrets along the way...

Legend holds that Quebec is home to many treasures that have never been found, and such folklore has ignited the author's imagination. With this new series, CAROLYN CHOUINARD offers readers a thrilling tale involving secret codes, riddles, and ancient mysteries.

THE POSSESSED

Démoniaque

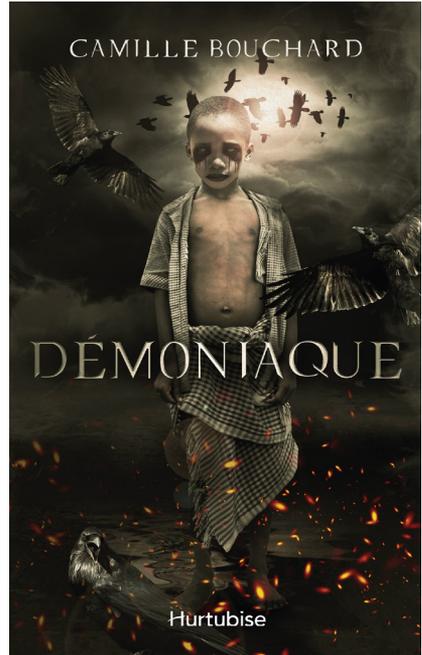

Camille Bouchard

Adam lives with his family in Sainte-Philomène, a small, unremarkable town, when the arrival of a windowed nurse and her seven sons upends his life. He quickly befriends the youngest, Léonard, but begins to notice that strange things always happen when his friend is around.

It all starts when a fall from the roof kills Adam's grandfather on impact. At least, that's what the doctor says—until his grandfather gets up, apparently unharmed. And then there's the baby that has died in its mother's womb and mysteriously come back to life. All when Léonard is around. At first, Adam believes his friend possesses a wonderful gift, but the truth is much more complicated...

Over the years, a dark and disturbing aura grows around Léonard, a bad omen for sure. Rumours claim his mother is a witch, just like his grandfather who lives in Africa. And some say a terrible demon throughout the ages is using the boy as a portal to enter our world...

The author of over 130 titles, CAMILLE BOUCHARD has been nominated for numerous literary award, including eight nominations for the Governor General's Award.

Ever since Alexis Chevarie started playing hockey, people have been calling him the next Sidney Crosby. At fourteen, that's a lot to live up to.

To take his game to the next level and follow in the footsteps of his idol, Alexis trades his native Magdalen Islands for the Bas-Saint-Laurent, where Crosby played junior hockey. Knowing that the world of professional hockey is extremely selective, he chooses to play high school hockey for the Mistral de Mont-Joli as part of the Ligue de Hockey Préparatoire Scolaire. Between life on the ice, with his host family, and at school, Alexis's new reality is anything but calm.

In this second volume, Alexis will be faced with a difficult choice: continue his career in the Ligue de Hockey Préparatoire Scolaire, or jump into the Major Junior Hockey League at fifteen, just like Connor McDavid did...

Author, teacher, father, and avid reader, FRANÇOIS BÉRUBÉ knows just how important it is to get young boys reading. His popular series Planet Soccer was born from a desire to give readers a story that would spark imaginations. François loves meeting fans when he attends book fairs. A true sports enthusiast, he invites readers to accompany him on a new adventure!

THE VILLAGE series

série Le village vol.1

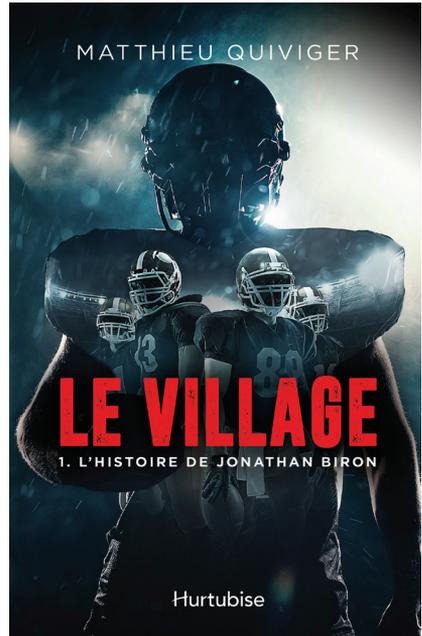

Matthieu Quiviger

Jonathan Biron has always been a substitute on the defensive line of his high school football team, the Notre-Dame Cactus. With college just around the corner, he must decide where to pursue both his sports career and his studies.

And, like any rookie, he'll have to find his place on his new team. His first season will be the most challenging of his life. From disappointment to success, frustration to triumph, insecurity to self-affirmation, his new team will push him to grow and develop as a person and as an athlete.

Surrounded by the Laurentian Mountains and accompanied by new teammates and coaches, Jonathan will learn how to live in a group, discover his potential, and find his place within the complex organization of a football team.

MATTHIEU QUIVIGER has had an unusual life. Former player for the Montreal Alouettes, he studied architecture at McGill and worked in the field for more than twenty years. He is now a university football analyst for TVA Sports. The Village is his first novel.

This coming-of-age novel describes the extraordinary lives of the members of a football team. The first of a three-part series.

“This well-written novel that champions transgender rights should be required reading; it teaches us that Ciel is, above all, a human who deserves respect.”

- Marie Allard, *La Presse

In the first volume, Ciel survived her first days in high school despite a difficult long-distance relationship with her Icelandic boyfriend and the fear of losing her best friend Stéphanie. In the second one, Ciel continues making videos for her YouTube channel after managing to buy the camera of her dreams. Her increasing popularity online will even attract the attention of a journalist!

Ciel is dragged into joining the school’s LGBT campaign alongside her new friend Samira—but to do so they have to face the group’s current president, the pretentious (and oh-so-popular) Jérôme-Lou. And through it all, Ciel is starting to question how she feels about Liam. Are they just friends, or could the relationship turn into something more?

SOPHIE LABELLE is a cartoonist, public speaker and author. In 2014 she began the webcomic Assigned Male, whose characters appear in this book. Her work quickly gained international acclaim, with more than 250 000 followers on her social media pages! Ciel is her first fiction series.

ALL THAT MATTERS series

série Tout ce qui compte vol.1

Annie Archambault

Summer is just beginning, and with it a new season of soccer. Thirteen-year-old Edelweiss is devastated to learn that, for the very first time, Sarah-Océane won't be on the field with her. She promises to write to her best friend and tell her everything.

In her emails, Edelweiss describes not only soccer practices and games, but also her teammates, new friendships, relationship with her brothers, the growing bond with Matéo, her childhood friend, and her first forays into love.

With her wild imagination and big heart, Edelweiss's nose for misadventure and candid voice is reminiscent of Aurélie Laflamme, another well-loved fictional teen. Through a combination of emails to friends and passages of first-person narrative, Edelweiss details the friendships, little fights and budding romances that mark the teenage years in a tone at once comical, touching and authentic.

ANNIE ARCHAMBAULT is an avid reader with undergraduate and graduate degrees in French studies. The mother of three soccer fans, she drew inspiration from the hours spent on and around soccer fields. All That Matters is her first fiction series.

“The mystery surrounding the absence of Sarah-Océane makes this novel stand out: for a long time, we wonder where she is and why she’s not answering to her friend’s emails.”

“The author’s first volume is a delightful read with an intriguing sub-plot that propels the novel, leaving readers curious to discover the identity of the mystery boy.”

- Pour l'amour de mes lectures

The first volume follows Mégane Popp, college student and lifeguard at the indoor pool, who takes home January's award. For one frigid month, Mégane will have to juggle an unusual relationship, a budding friendship, her part-time job at the pool, and the start of classes.

In the second volume, July's Employee of the Month is Frédérique, responsible for monitoring the outdoor pool for the summer season. She quickly develops a crush on her colleague Malcolm, a solitary, aloof type with a half-shaved head who is covered in tattoos. At the same time, her ex Timothée comes back to town, declaring his love for her and a desire to get back together. Through all the curveballs the summer will throw her way, Frédérique learns to assert herself, make choices, and express her feelings.

Author of several picture books and teen fiction, SOPHIE RONDEAU is also a high school teacher and mother of four. With Hurtubise she has published the popular series Cupcakes et claquettes and Selfies et sushis, along with the novel Parce que je ne peux pas aller au bal avec Shawn Mendes.

While happily walking down the sidewalk, Fannie steps on gum. Again. And just at that moment she meets a boy she nicknames Mr. Chewing-gum.

He falls head over heels for Fannie, but the feelings aren't reciprocated. She's doing just fine on her own! At least that's what she's always telling her best friends Noémie and Beckie.

Fannie divides her time between her college studies in journalism, her little apartment where she pampers her cat Grégory, and the sandwich kiosk at the metro station. Add to that some gossip over drinks, a few honeydew-filled weekends, nights out at Eclipse, a cute boy addicted to Instagram, and a heart that'll end up dissolving like chewing gum on a sun-scorched sidewalk. A slice of life taken from the daily adventures of a girl of her time.

ANNE-MARIE LOBBE is a journalist for the Journal de Montréal and the magazine COOL! and creates content for various websites including VRAK.tv. Her first novel, Une vie à quatre vitesses, was a finalist for the Cécile-Gagnon Award.

SLUSH HEART series

série Coeur de slush

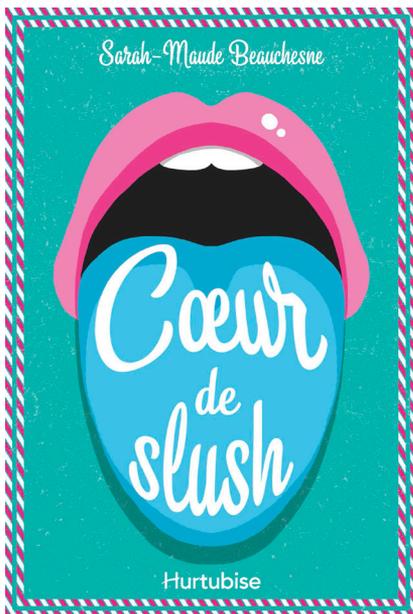

Sarah-Maude Beauchesne

In Coeur de slush (Slush Heart), Billie is charmed by Pierre: a suburban story of summer love in the middle of a heat wave; a story of discovery, intimacy, new desires and blind passion.

It's all ripped jeans and parties, root beer flavor lip gloss, french fries and hearts in ketchup on the bottom of the plate. Slush Heart is also and above all a tale of the pursuit of love and the attempt to understand a larger-than-life guy. Because at seventeen, loving a boy is the greatest of dramas.

A year later, in Lèches vitrines (Window Shopper), Billie moves to Montreal with her older sister Annette and their mom. How can she forget about Pierre and his deep-swimming-pool-dark-blue eyes? She wishes for little rebellions, boys with hair of all kinds of colours—except maybe bright blond—in the middle of urban adventures. Then there's Maxime. And a pack of boys, a party Jeep, a midnight swim, a red carpet, a laundromat romance, Chinese food, and... love. Real, true love.

SARAH-MAUDE BEAUCHESNE lives in Montreal with her cat Audrey. She has a fondness for complicated love stories, which she writes almost every day. She now gives us Maxime, a very personal story that concludes the trilogy begun with Coeur de slush and Lèche vitrines, two novels that became quick bestsellers.

How Jack lost time* is a poetic story about loss and the choices that change one's life forever.

Jack wasn't a captain like the others. He never left his boat, he even grew a kitchen garden on it to make sure to be always at sea. He wasn't even interested in fish, so whenever one got caught in his net, Jack threw it back.

All he cared about was to find the grey whale with the scarred dorsal fin that had swallowed up his son Julos years before. He had promised himself to never come home until he found his son. One night, a night not much different from other nights, he saw something lurking around his boat. Jack didn't waste a moment to throw himself in the whale's mouth and deep into the whale's belly, but was it too late?

STEPHANIE LAPOINTE first entered the Quebec cultural scene as a singer and actress. She currently works as a TV documentary filmmaker and is the author of the children's book series Fanny Cloutier (Les Malins).

DELPHIE CÔTÉ-LACROIX is a multidisciplinary visual artist with a background in graphic design. She uses simple composition and a limited color palette to create images that are delicate yet impactful.

GRANDFATHER AND THE MOON

Grand-père et la lune
Stéphanie Lapointe & Rogé

“An absorbing graphic memoir.”
- Publishers Weekly

“A lovely portrayal in words and art.”
- School Library Journal

This moving graphic novel tells the story of the affection between a girl and her grandfather. When the grandfather withdraws in grief after his wife dies, the girl is determined to live life fully herself and enters an extraordinary contest — the result is a sensitive portrayal of pursuing a dream.

Grandfather, a man of few words, is devastated when his beloved wife succumbs to cancer, and he sinks into depression. His granddaughter (“Mémère,” as he calls her) has a different response. She decides to enter the Who Will Go to the Moon Contest, and when she actually wins, she hopes that Grandfather will be proud of her. She embarks on the thrilling journey and at first it is wonderful, but just as she is about to reach the moon, her journey takes an unexpected turn.

Written by STÉPHANIE LAPOINTE and beautifully illustrated by ROGÉ, this imaginative graphic novel explores intergenerational relationships, love, death, dreams and illusions.
